Greetings from Sahapedia.

It is our pleasure to share with you details of the Sahapedia UNESCO Fellowship 2018 for which applications are currently underway. Following the success of our first edition, we have, with the support of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India, launched the second edition. The deadline for applications is June 30th.

The Sahapedia-UNESCO Fellowship is an opportunity for enthusiasts, students and scholars to engage in research and documentation of cultural heritage and pursue their interests in the knowledge systems of India. The work carried out by the fellows will be published on www.sahapedia.org

Through this initiative, Fellows are encouraged to conduct documentation and critical research in diverse areas of cultural knowledge, while interacting with and enhancing networks that contribute to their creation.

This year we are endeavouring to encourage research and documentation in English, Hindi, Urdu, Bengali, Marathi, Tamil and Malayalam. For more details on the Fellowship structure and application process, visit
