

Certificate Course in International Trade (Africa)

The Centre for African Studies, University of Mumbai is accepting the application forms for Admission to the Certificate Course in International Trade (Africa) for academic year 2015-16. The Centre for African Studies was established with the help of the University Grants Commission (UGC) in 1971-72. The Centre is actively involved in research and interdisciplinary teaching at the postgraduate level. The Centre for African Studies has an experienced faculty, excellent library and Wi-Fi campus to name a few. Please visit the website.

Certificate Course in International Trade (Africa), was designed considering the real time issues faced by Indian companies in international trade with AFRICA. These topics were explained with live case studies of Indian companies' real experiences in Africa, for example, CIPLA, AIRTEL. L & T, Kirloskar Pumps, Mahindra and Mahindra etc. The course focuses on multiple industry verticals, considering the demand from varied industry professionals. Corporate companies want to sponsor their employees are most welcome. We are happy to inform that EMCO Limited has sponsored their employees, and we are in negotiation with other leading corporate for the Certificate Course in International Trade (Africa).

Africa is currently a land of opportunities with India's export target overachieving in last 3 years. African economies are on growth trajectory with 5.3 % growth rate in year 2013, which equaled the growth rate of ASIA in first time. With massive natural resources at the continent, these 54 nations are investing in sustainable development of their economies in return creating a demand for quality products.
