The Committee held its virtual meeting on 29th August, 2020, when all members were present. After going through the provisions of the Maharashtra Public Universities Act, 2016 and the discussion thereon, and discussing the terms of the Committee and the necessary follow up, it was decided to look into the important facets of establishing Sub-Campus to equip the students to accept challenges of life, come what may.

Preamble

To meet the demand and to achieve the aim of providing the facility of higher learning centre, the Maharashtra Public Universities Act, 2016 has made the provisions under Section 2 (60) as " 'Sub-Campus' means a comprehensive inherent independent unit of the university for a predetermined geographical jurisdiction for decentralization of academic, administrative, research and extension activities of that jurisdiction, with the objective of improving efficiency and effectiveness".

Education has always been important in man's life, but more so in the modern world. In a world based on science and technology, the university has understood the significance of Sub-

Campus to serve the interior/hilly/tribal/rural area students. The great heritage of academic achievement of the University is based on the core idea of most effective utilization of the available resources and efforts to keep pace with "the needs of the environment".

The importance of Sub- Campus of the university is to provide an effective learning environment. The Campus is a small replica in which we can see the image of the society. Considering the magnitude of the need for Sub-Campus development, the 'Holistic' method is much needed.

It is true that from time immemorial man has been in search of truth and knowledge. His quest for truth leads him from the physical world to the spiritual, and from the natural to the supernatural. So is the relationship between Education Campus and learning.

Object to establish the Sub-Campus:

The object of Sub-campus, shall be to disseminate, create and preserve knowledge of a predetermined geographical jurisdiction and understanding by teaching, research and development, skill development, extension and service activities of that jurisdiction with the objective of efficiency and effectiveness. The objectives shall be to, -

1. To increase Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER).
2. To preserve cultural heritage.
3. To promote gender equality.
4. Generate and promote a sense of self- respect and dignity amongst the weaker section of the society.
5. To provide efficient and responsive administration, scientific and technology management.
6. To offer opportunities of new knowledge, training and skills in the context of modern communication media, information and communication technology etc.
7. To promote competitive merit in all academic and other matters relating to students.
8. To establish vocational/ skill knowledge based school.
9. School of Inter-disciplinary studies to promote inter-disciplinary education and research on Sub-Campus and create an academic and research and development environment that allows free flow of ideas amongst several disciplines.
10. Understanding the diversity of the community.
11. Understanding the needs of the community.
12. To impart knowledge through the State language i.e. Marathi and international language i.e. English.
13. To provide modern education to all students.
14. To provide opportunities of higher education in professional programmes.

15. To provide equal opportunities to all i.e. to SC; ST; NT; DT; OBC and other minority communities.
16. To create and disseminate knowledge, equity, inclusivity, excellence, research and quality education.
17. Sub-Campus is an integral part of University and colleges imparting academic programmes, co-curricular, research and extension activities in rural or tribal region established with the object of reaching the unreached.

Functions of the Sub-Campus:

The Sub-Campus should encourage the students to become progressive and responsible citizens in their personal and social life. Education must be life building. The Sub-Campus and colleges play a crucial role in moulding young minds to think positively and help live an emotionally and spiritually healthy life. According to Dr. Radhakrishnan, 'It is the function of a University to build human beings, strive to rid them of their vanities and egotism and emancipate their minds from petty prejudices and narrow loyalties.'

It is therefore, essential to contemplate and develop innovative strategies at different levels of learning to educate the pupils about the world within and without. This will not only help the pupils to be knowledgeable but will mould them to realize the essence of self-worth and social well-being.

However, with changing trends and times, a concept of setting-up Campus in SINDHUDURG- District is imperative to help deliver quality education with excellence at its key factors. At the grass-root level, we need to create an opportunity for our students to be creative. In short, it helps to unlock the door to modernization.

In Sub-Campus, research is one of the pre-requisites for developing any educational programme. Without research in a particular field, teaching becomes static. The society expects that the expertise of the academicians be fruitfully put to use in order to find solution to economic, social, scientific and technological problems. Therefore, educational task of Sub-Campus of university is to emphasise a new spirit and a modern outlook for pragmatic approach to serve the student community and follow the principle of equity and access.

The function of the Sub-Campus is to enable the students to earn a fruitful living and teach them humanity on the basis of science and technology. Therefore, it shall cultivate the students for national development. So, it may bring about social change, employment, and research for the betterment of the society. The prolegomena to establish the Sub-Centre is to think about development of higher education.
