INTRODUCTION

In order to imbibe the concepts of Parliamentary democracy and to inculcate the parliamentary practices and procedures in the young minds, the Government of India introduced the "Youth Parliament Competition Scheme" in educational institutions following the recommendation of the Fourth All India Whips Conference held at Bombay in 1962 and its subsequent reiteration in 1966. From the year 1994-95, the Government of West Bengal initiated the scheme for its implementation in educational institutions of the State. Since then, the Parliamentary Affairs Department has been organizing "Youth Parliament Competition Scheme" in order to make students understand the parliamentary procedure and develop an insight into the working of parliament. It is also aimed at training students in the techniques of group discussion and to develop in them respect and tolerance for the views of others. Above all, it intends to develop in students the quality of leadership. The ultimate objective is to strengthen the fundamentals of Parliamentary democracy in the country. Over the past few years, the ambit of the scheme has been much broadened. The competition is now being held at the level of Block/Municipality, District and finally at the Division/State Level.

AIM AND OBJECT OF YOUTH PARLIAMENT

Youth parliament is a platform offered to the youngsters where they are given a mock parliament set-up and exposure to the parliament-type Debate. It is significant due to the following reasons:

- In order to create a set of youngsters who have an idea of the parliament, the best way is to make them sit in that environment.
- It is a platform to discuss the national issue on a large scale in a proper forum and in front of experienced moderators.
- It brings like-minded youngsters on the same platform and offers a chance for the creation of a community to discuss and come up with possible solutions.

The purposes of the Youth Parliament are as follows:

- To develop in students an insight into the working parliament.
- To make students consider public issues and form their opinion on them.
- To train students in the technique of group discussion.
- To develop in students an ability to arrive at decisions after group discussion.
- To develop respect and tolerance for the views of others.
- To make students aware of various problems faced by our society and the country.
- To create in students the quality of leadership. Understand the common man's point of view and express it in an articulated manner.
