

CONTRIBUTORS' BIONOTES

Contributors' Bionotes

Ajit Abhyankar is a social-political activist working in the labour movement. He is also an analyst, a writer, and a YouTuber contributing to socio-economic policies and is a participant in discussion debates on various television channels. He is also a visiting faculty at Symbiosis College of liberal arts.

Muhammad Sanaullah Al-Nadawi is a Professor and the Chairman of Arabic, Department of Arabic at Aligarh Muslim University in Aligarh, Uttar Pradesh. He has published 13 books, more than 200 papers, and articles in Arabic, English, and Urdu that have been published in national and international journals. He is an editor of the ISSN Journal of the Indian Academy of Arabic. He is also the recipient of several national and international awards and Honors.

Meera Baindur works as an Associate Professor in the School of Liberal Arts and Sciences (SoLAS) at RV University Bangalore. She is the program head of the Indian studies program and also the Director of the Centre for Languages and Translation at the University. She is interested in a wide-ranging area of themes in Indian Philosophy, and environmental humanities such as conceptualisation of nature in Indian thought, ecological and environmental ethics, religion and environment, environmental ethics, and sustainability issues. More broadly her research currently is in the area of lived concepts of Indian philosophy including place, aesthetics, decoloniality, ecofeminism, and gender issues. She has presented papers at international conferences in many countries and is acknowledged as an expert in her area. She is a member of the Consortium of Environmental Philosophers and an Ethics Expert at Globalethics.net, Geneva. Her recent publications include papers related to sustainability, the Philosophy of Dissent, and Animal dignity.

Anuradha Bakshi is the In-Charge Principal of the Nirmala Niketan College of Home Science, affiliated to the University of Mumbai. She is also the Head of the Department of Human Development at the college. She began her teaching career in 1986 at the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Faculty of Home Science, now called the Faculty of Family and Community Sciences, Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda. She has taught undergraduate students and coordinated a National Institute of Mental Health-funded research laboratory as a PhD scholar in the USA. She has published a co-edited book, several chapters in books, and papers in journals. Her co-edited book, Handbook of Career Development: International Perspectives (2014, Springer) is used in ILO-sponsored training programmes. One of her recent publications is an invited chapter on Parent and Peer Influences on Children's Social Development in a Wiley-Blackwell Handbook of Developmental Psychology (2022, Wiley). She is a Consulting Editor of the Routledge, Taylor and Francis, journal "British Journal of Guidance & Counselling". She is working closely with scholars from multiple countries in her role as editor.

Andrew John De Sousa is a second-year B.A. student at the Departments of Economics, Statistics, and Sociology, St. Xavier's College (Autonomous), Mumbai. He is an advocate of languages and the humanities and a passionate teacher of French. He recently published and released his first book, a reference-cum-workbook for students of French. With his academic focus currently geared toward interdisciplinary studies, his areas of interest in English Literature include Indian Writing in English and Poetry.

Raj Karia a Master's student in the Philosophy Department from the University of Mumbai. He has pursued his graduation in Philosophy from Mithibai College, Mumbai, and a Diploma in Indian Aesthetics from the Department of Philosophy, University of Mumbai. He has been a part of the organising team for various festivals, talks, and events. He has also won the first prize for the 'Best Comment' at a talk organized by the Gender Equity Cell of Ramniranjan Jhunjhunwala College of Arts, Science, & Commerce (Autonomous). His primary interests include Continental Philosophy, Gender studies, Political Philosophy, Ethics, and Aesthetics.

Ishrat Ali Lalljee is an Associate Professor and Head of the Department of English at Hinduja College, Mumbai has been researching the works of Ruskin Bond since 1989. Her interviews with the author over the years have been published in the media.

Kumud Kumar Sharma Executive Director (Sustainable Development) in Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) Limited. He is the Head of Sustainable Development in Marketing Division of IOC. He possesses a Bachelor of Science (Electrical Engineering, Postgraduate Diploma in Marketing, Certified SCM Professional (CIL-IL). He has over 36 years of experience in the Oil and Gas Industry. In the last 36 years he has been involved in Marketing, Operations, Supply Chain, Mergers, and Acquisition, International Business and infrastructure Development. He has made pioneering efforts for stabilisation of IOC's Petchem business and Globalisation. He was also actively involved in IOC's Ventures in Sri Lanka, Mauritius, and IBP Disinvestment. He has been IOC's State Head of Marketing and a State level Coordinator for the Oil Industry in Odisha. He has a recent experience of Cryogenics and has developed a vision for growth. He is a crusader for the GreenCo movement and other Key Sustainable Development initiatives in IOC. He has also started an e-Journal on Sustainable Development known as 'Prakariti'.

Chetan Solanki is a Professor at the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Bombay, who is currently on unpaid leave. He has undertaken the Energy Swaraj Yatra since November 2020, whereby he will travel by a solar bus for 11 years, until 2030. He is the founder of the Energy Swaraj Foundation, a Brand Ambassador of Solar Energy for Madhya Pradesh, also referred as the "Solar Man of India" or "Solar Gandhi". Solanki has led major solar projects at IIT, Bombay. He is the Chairman of the Committee of Central Board of Secondary Education and the All India Council for Technical Education for Solar Curriculum development, and is a member of the National Focus Group on environmental education. Solanki has written 8 books and published over 100 research papers internationally. He has 4 patents to his credit.

Vidushi Srivastava is pursuing her postgraduation in Geography at the Department of Geography, University of Mumbai. She is a native of Lucknow, in the state of Uttar Pradesh. She has a specialisation in Geopolitics and International Relations, and climate change. She has presented a research paper on Political Consciousness: reciprocating on the perceptions of youth at the interdisciplinary national conference on contemporary issues and concerns in globalisation, nationalism, and geopolitics. Her major interest lies in geographical research and academics.

Ganesh Upadhya is working as a Professor and Head of the Department of Kannada, University of Mumbai. He is actively involved in promoting and disseminating literature, culture, and criticism along with multilingual harmony in traditional and emerging areas of Mumbai. He has conducted national and international seminars and workshops. His articles are published in magazines and newspapers. His areas of interest are research, literary criticism, journalism and linguistics. He has authored more than 80 diverse literary works which encompasses various fields related to literature. Upadhya started his own publication- Abhijit Prakashan, in Mumbai and has published more than 120 books, thus making Mumbai shine in the literature field. His research works viz. Kannada inscriptions of Maharashtra, traces of Kannada on the banks of Godavari, Kannada place names of Maharashtra; works like Sonnalige Siddharama are quite popular in the scholarly circle. So far 76 M. Phil and Ph. D scholars graduated under Upadhya's guidance. He has been honoured with the Gurunaryan Sahitya Award, Narahalli Award, Karnataka Sri Puraskar, and more.

Poornima Sudhakar Shetty is working as an assistant professor of Kannada Department University of Mumbai. She has authored and edited 10 books. She has conducted many seminars and workshops. Her articles are published in newspapers and magazines. She has received many awards.

Kala Chidananda Bhagwat is a PhD scholar at the Kannada department, University of Mumbai, studying under the guidance of Dr. G. N. Upadhya. She secured the highest marks in M.A with M.B Kukian gold medal from Mumbai University. She has authored two books. Her poems, creative research, and review articles have been published in magazines and newspapers.