CHAPTER 8 : UNIVERSITY STATISTIC 263

INTRODUCTORY

The different parts of World are coming closer. In this process first of all is the loyalty towards Technical knowledge and the second part is Cultural loyalty. The technical knowledge make it possible to come near to each other even then the involvement Cultural relationship should not be left to remain to be only mechanical.

In the educational field the International environment, in regard to Culture make this process Substantial and Meaningful. In the Annual Report of Mumbai University for the year 2011- 2012, a number of pages are devoted to the International Relationship in a creative manner and it proves the intention.

For this purpose the Mumbai University has made continuous efforts to complete necessary work of joining the Scientific and Cultural parts in the International Relationship in Educational Field. If you handle competitively, then you will realize through this Annual Report that 21st Century is ours, which are reflected from various activities of knowledge undertaken by different Departments.

In view of the educational Institution, it is very important to draw new border lines of the area of the learning. This creates relationship in the different field of learning, which encourages new creation. The learning field keeps on flowing which does not allow stagnation. Because of this process, the field of learning, the issues which had no entry earlier, new amplitude get entry. In their frame work and intention new principles are entered. For this purpose, the conventional and non symbolic both these units are to be handled with care for creation of relations. In this regard Mumbai University is deliberately stepping ahead, which can be seen from the Annual Report of Mumbai University. This is a valuable fact, this is referred as experimental morals in educational field. In the educational field of Mumbai University today different kinds of new and non symbolic imaginations are getting entries.

Behind all these movements it is necessary to bear in mind the social responsibility and strong knowledge of leadership. In the absence of these factors, the education gets a place of source of means and we forget that the preservation of mind and culture which is the main function of the education, which has been realized by the University Teacher, Students and the head of the University, which is certainly explained in details in Annual Report by Mumbai or any other University is established receiving the favorable response to Social Cultural Situation and their responses of recreation of such response, repeated again and again then the University in regard to Social Cultural Work carryout meaningful work. Otherwise the importance of University remains as only the factory of manufacturing appliances required by the System. The Mumbai University never forgot its responsibility of Social Cultural Work therefore the University has become the house of new thoughts. This convention has been mentioned by University even during the academic year 2011-2012.

The University and the Colleges affiliated to University, a huge number of students and changes in the expectations from the University amongst the people due to passage of time, all these factors have created challenges and while facing the challenges, the Mumbai University has to play its role with a great responsibility. The University has to consider deeply and to remain vigilant as to how utility of the quality of meaningful profoundness prosperity will be included in our role of imparting knowledge. At the level of devotion towards knowledge it has to bear powerful inclination to reach beyond it. In the basic research plans they are to be drawn on the various subject, to get momentum. Behind the happenings in the field of knowledge, the back ground machinery to be installed. The work of these machinery is to develop and not to impose improper control, this kind of creation of confidence is required to be created in the minds of experts is the priority for these who are moving in the area of knowledge. Instead of raising the fences, the breakage of the fences is more important, which can be seen in the business of University. This can be seen promptly in the Annual Report of the University. In this one more important indication is that the different branches of Science to come together in that to start give and take Policy. In the Mumbai University, the direct relationship between the different departments, the research being carried out in the department, the preparation of the syllabus, the studies if a cursory look it taken on all these factors, in the knowledge area bargaining has started. The relationship which enriches each other, starting of such relationship in the area of knowledge in the different fields of the science are sign of the education becoming more meaningful. These sacred signs have clearly emerged in the campus of Mumbai University.

Not only of the University but of any other educational importance of the project it is decided on the basis of three factors. It is necessary to consider to take the future foreboding of the project. If such kind of foreboding is taken then the principles of new issues can be included in the educational activities of the project. If there is no intention to see future then the projects become future blind and wander aimlessly, secondly the University or the projects have to make decision on situation existing at present. Then, if the meaning of waves of the incident of the present tense is applied by the educational projects, then only its roots become strong in the culture otherwise this undertaking may become the parasite of non objective project. Thirdly, it is necessary to take into consideration the future of this project. If it is not considered then there will be repetition of meaningless project and there is possibility of vanishing of spirit from the projects.

The Mumbai University has specific consciousness of the Past, Future and the Present and it has been expressed in its dealings of various kind in its dealing of Various kinds which is seen from the Annual Report.
