

CONTRIBUTORS' BIONOTES

Contributors

Petrova Irina Alexandrovna is a postgraduate student of the General Academic Postgraduate Course of the Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration. She is a consultant and analyst for research projects in corporate governance and sustainability, education, business processes and innovation. Irina has taken part in projects to evaluate the effectiveness of boards of directors, develop corporate governance, assess, and form sustainable development systems in the activities of companies in Europe and Central Asia. She is part of a team for the development of family constitutions, as well as long- and short-term motivation systems; and has experience participating in international benchmarking projects. Author of international and Russian publications on corporate governance and sustainable development, digital transformation and financial literacy. She is a senior analyst at the FANU's "Eastern State Planning Center", an analyst at the "National Corporate Governance Index" project.

Aaliya Azad is pursuing her masters in geography at the Department of Geography, University of Mumbai. She is native of Kollam district from the state of Kerala. She has specialisation in Geopolitics and International Relations and climate change. She has keen to work on psychogeographies in future. She is pursuing her research on the man and wild conflicts in Kerala for her Masters. She has presented a research paper on Environmental Politics: Positioning "Aarey" as a reflection at the interdisciplinary national conference on Contemporary issues and concerns in globalisation, nationalism and geopolitics. Her major interest lies in geographical research and academics.

Anirudh Chakraborty is a Geologist and is currently pursuing his Ph.D. in mineral exploration using remote sensing technology from Dept. of Geography, University of Mumbai. He has experience in teaching as Lecturer and working with multinational corporations. He likes everything related to geoscience, arts and music.

Rajendrakumar Dabee is a Senior Lecturer of Indian Philosophy at the Mahatma Gandhi Institute (MGI) in Mauritius. He holds a B.A in Indian Philosophy from the University of Mauritius, a Master's degree from Bharathidasan University, Trichy, and a Ph.D. from the University of Madras. In addition, he has a Post Graduate Certificate in Education (PGCE), a Diploma in Sanskrit, and a Diploma in Yoga. Dr. Dabee has over three decades of experience in education, starting as a Primary School Teacher and later teaching in the Secondary sector as an Educator for Hinduism, where he also served as the Assistant Chief Examiner for Cambridge International Examinations (CIE). Dr. Dabee's research interests include Darśanas, Sanskrit language, Ethics, Philosophical History of Mauritius, and Interdisciplinarity. He has published articles in Journals and Books on several related topics. Dr. Dabee is a certified Trainer for Learning To Live Together (LTLT) by Arigatou International, Geneva, and as such, a resource person on Interfaith Dialogue for the Council of Religions of Mauritius.

Kuznetsov Mikhail Evgenievich is a Candidate of Economic Sciences, Associate Professor, MBA and Senior Researcher at the Department of Macroeconomic Policy and Strategic Management, Director of the Center of System Transformations of the M. V. Lomonosov Moscow State University Faculty of Economics, leader of the "Professional Director" program. He has over 15 years of experience in investment and management consulting, as well as in one of the largest international development institutions—the IFC, the World Bank Group. Mikhail has over 10 years of experience on the boards of directors of large and medium-sized companies in the financial, energy, transport, and food industries, and is a member of the World Economic Forum's Expert Network. He is the author of four books and over 20 scientific publications on sustainable development, corporate governance, and strategic management. He has conducted research in the fields of ESG, corporate governance, innovation, and digital economy; taken part in the formation of companies' ESG profiles; and developed business strategies in the ESG field for large companies.

Sonia George, General Secretary, SEWA, Kerala, and Member of National Council. She is working with SEWA for the last 22 years organizing women workers in the informal sector. It has been a long journey of working with the most marginalized women for their recognition and rights. SEWA has significantly contributed to the mainstream labor movement in Kerala by raising issues of women informal workers like self-employed, temporary, and home-based workers. As part of this, she is involved in policy-making for informal sector workers and also represent SEWA in joint platforms of trade unions and also other sector platforms. She has represented the union in national and international tripartite forums like the International Labour Organisation and the UN Commission on the Status of Women. She is a researcher in informal sector workers issues and my doctoral research was on Globalization, Gender, and Informal Labour.

Nikishova Maria Igorevna is a Candidate of Economic Sciences; an expert at the Center for System Transformations of the Faculty of Economics of the M. V. Lomonosov Moscow State University; co-author of disciplines in corporate governance and sustainable development; teacher of educational programs in management, ESG, financial literacy and digital economy. She is a consultant for the IFC World Bank on the development of social responsibility and corporate governance practices in Europe and Central Asia, and a member of the boards of directors and audit committees of companies. She oversaw a project to create a calculator for forest-climatic carbon units in the Russian Federation. She is a developer of the Corporate Governance Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Maria has been involved in projects on smart cities, artificial intelligence, IT, and Internet entrepreneurship for the Global Future Council at the World Economic Forum. She is currently the head of the FANU's "Eastern State Planning Center" and the head of the "National Corporate Governance Index" project.

Shweta Sachdeva Jha teaches English at Miranda House, University of Delhi. She did her PhD as a Felix Scholar at the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London. Her research interests range from women's history, children's picture books, Urdu popular literature to digital archives. Parts of her thesis on the tawa'if have been published as chapters in Speaking of the Self: Gender, Performance and Autobiography in South Asia (Duke University Press, 2015), The Bollywood Islamicate: Idioms, Histories and Imaginaries (Orient Blackswan, 2022). Her chapters on women's writing in Urdu can be read in South Asian Gothic: Haunted Cultures, Histories and Media (University of Wales Press, 2021) and Sultana's Sisters: Gender, Genres, and Genealogy in South Asian Muslim Women's Fiction (Routledge, 2021). Her archival project on Miranda House was supported by the Avabai Wadia Fellowship by SNDT University of Women, Mumbai (2020) and her recent work engages with the 1947 partition Archive for which she received the Tata Trusts-Partition Archive Research Grant (2021).

Abey Koshy is Professor in the Department of Philosophy at Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit, Kalady, Kochi, Kerala. He did Ph.D. in Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. His area of specialisation is poststructuralism, continental feminist theory, phenomenology and existentialism. He has published several research papers in Scopus Indexed journals and other prominent peer-reviewed journals. Presented more than fifty papers at various Indian and foreign conferences. He also writes in the Malayalam Language on cultural issues from a philosophical perspective. The three books authored by him are: Affirmation of the Will to Life: Love, Fascism, Art (220 pages, Malayalam), Soochika Books, 2020; Malabar Kalapam (Malayalam), (Translation of Against Lord and State, Oxford University Press), DC Books, 2004; Nietzsche: Rise of Postmodern Sensibility (Malayalam), SPCS/NBS, Kottayam, 2022.

Vaishali Kurhekar, Assistant Professor, Narsee Moonje College, Mumbai is pursuing her doctoral degree in Transport Geography with special focus on Urban Transport. With an inclination to the research, a number of research papers, presented at national-international conferences like AAG, INCA, etc, are on her credit.

Sachin Labade is an Associate Professor in the Department of English, University of Mumbai, India. He has 20 years of teaching experience in English Literary and Linguistic Studies. His present research interests include Queer Studies, Language Pedagogy, and English in South Asia. He offers consultancy in designing language and language pedagogy curriculum, and developing English language educator training projects. He translated a storybook in Marathi (Jithe Anand Lapato Dirty Lane, Australia), co-authored a book (Communication Skills in English, Orient Blackswan, New Delhi) and a chapter on English in India (in Modelling World Englishes: A Joint Approach, EUP). He also contributed to the World Literature section of the Marathi Encyclopaedia of Marathi Vishwakosh Nirmitti Mandal, Govt of Maharashtra. Besides, he coordinates the University of Mumbai's Indo-Canadian Studies Centre as well as Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute's University Centre.

Kirti Nakhare is an Associate Professor in English, at the Department of Business Communication, S.I.W.S. College of Commerce and Economics, Mumbai. Her doctoral thesis investigated the position of the subaltern in select works based on the Mahabharata. Her research focuses on the position of the subaltern influenced by gender, locating the subaltern in regional versions of the epic, and the study of subaltern theory, in general. She has presented papers at national and international conferences and has publications to her credit. She participated in the Open Educational Resources project of the University of Mumbai in association with Common Wealth Asia to create content on soft skills in 2010 and has created content for the African Literature Module of the UGC'S e-PG Pathshala project.

Avinash Pandey has been a faculty member in the Department of Linguistics, University of Mumbai since 2004. His recent publications have been in areas such as semantics/Pragmatics, Educational Linguistics (especially Multilinguality in Education), Language in Society etc. He has carried out research projects in the areas of Machine-Human interaction, Linguistic Landscape as well as Orality. He publishes in both English and Marathi.

Nikita Rajput, Scientific Officer C, at Centre for Cancer Epidemiology, Tata Memorial Centre Mumbai. She is currently pursuing her Ph.D. in Public health sciences and passionate about planetary health and creating awareness about the same. Her interest in fine arts has led to many achievements in this field too. Curiosity, Compassion and Creativity are the values she relates to.

Santosh Rathod is a Professor of English at Institute of Distance and Open Learning, University of Mumbai. As a creative writer, he writes in English, Marathi and Gorboli, the language of Banjara Community. He has two plays in English and Marathi namely, Their Mother's Husband and E for English. Dr Rathod's collection of short stories titled A Swordtail and Other Stories in English appeared in 2010. His poetry in English, Marathi and Gorboli has been published in the leading journals like Parivartanache Watsaru, Langlit, Research Chronicler and the like. He read his poems in an online poetry recitation session at the Oxford University, South Asian Society, in America's online Milwaukee Poetry Series, in the event "Black American Feminism" organized by American Consulate, Mumbai and in the Vidarbha Sahitya Sammelan, Nagpur to name a few. Dr Rathod has published a number of research papers in national and international journals and also presented papers in national and international conferences and seminars. A recipient of the Jibananand Das Award for translation, Dr Rathod has translated Baburao Bagul's "Sood" into English.

Anamik Shah served as the Vice Chancellor of Gujarat Vidyapith, Ahmedabad for 2 consecutive terms and completed his tenure as Professor at Department of Chemistry, Saurashtra University. He has initiated to create a unique facility "National Facility for Drug Discovery Complex" to support small and medium pharmaceutical & chemical manufacturing units of the region under DST (DPRP) Project. He is a trustee of Gandhi Smruti Trust, (trust looking after Kaba Gandhino Delo'-parental house of Gandhiji) at Rajkot, the Chairman of Vishwamangala Trust, Anera, Banaskantha, North Gujarat, Kasturba Sevashram trust, Maroli, Surat and Lok Vignan Kendra, in addition to a few Sciences oriented trust activities." He hails the legacy of his freedom fighter family and historian and profound writer father Kantilal M Shah. He is currently the President of Indian Society of Chemists and Biologists, Lucknow, which is one of the leading scientific society of India with more than 2200 active members.

Sucharita Sarkar is Associate Professor of English, D.T.S.S College of Commerce, Mumbai. She is also an invited member of the Faculty of Humanities, Dr. Homi Bhabha State University, Mumbai. Her doctoral thesis investigated mothering narratives in contemporary India. She participated in an international collaborative project, New Directions for International Scholarship on Motherhood in Religious Studies, funded by a research grant from the American Academy of Religion. Her recent publications include articles in Current Sociology (2021), Qualitative Inquiry (2020) and Open Theology (2020); as well as chapters in edited anthologies such as The Palgrave Handbook of Reproductive Justice and Literature (2022), Representing Abortion (Routledge, 2021); Food, Faith and Gender in South Asia (Bloomsbury Academic, 2020); Thickening Fat (Routledge, 2020); The Politics of Belonging in Contemporary India (Routledge, 2020), among others.

Mazher Siddiqui is an Associate Professor & Head, Department of Persian, Vasant Rao Naik Government Institute of Arts and Social Sciences, Nagpur. He is a member of the Board of Studies for Urdu, Arabic, Persian & Avesta Pahlavi, MSBS & HSE, Pune. He has also worked in the Board of Studies in Persian, Arabic & Islamic Culture, for University of Mumbai, Board of Studies in Persian, R.T.M Nagpur University, and the Board of Studies in Persian & Arabic, Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University. He has published several research papers in national and international journals, and contributed to newspapers like The Hitvada & Lokmat Times. Dr Siddiqui's contributions have also been instrumental in editing several books.

Niketan Thakur, M.Sc. Zoology postgraduate with 11 years of field experience, is dedicated to protecting wildlife and their habitats. He promotes conservation awareness and works in collaboration with organizations like BNHS, MCBT, OWLS and various local NGOs.

Surabhi Thosar, Project coordinator, Paryavaran Dakshata Mandal (PDM), Thane has completed her masters in Biodiversity. She is a sub editor of a monthly magazine 'Apala Paryavaran' - published by PDM. She is also associated with 'Nisargayan', an Environmental Education Center near Kalyan where schools and colleges can visit for educational trips and excursions.

Ronald Yesudhas received MA (Social Work) and Ph.D (Social Work) degrees from the Tata Institute of Social Sciences and since 2013 works as Assistant Professor at the College of Social Work (Autonomous), Nirmala Niketan Institute, Mumbai (India). He has 15 years of field and academic experience in social work. Dr Ronald teaches courses such as Third Sector Management, Integrated Social Work Practice, and Philosophy of Social Work. In addition to writing and publishing, he is an active peer reviewer of Web of Science/Scopus international journals such as Development in Practice (Taylor and Francis Group), etc. Dr Ronald has extensive experience in program design, monitoring, and evaluation. Along with being the Treasurer of the Bombay Association of Trained Social Workers (since 2016), he leads the Campaign for Advancement for Social Work in India (since 2022).