

TECHNOLOGY, ART AND SOCIETY
SECTION I: THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES

19 Face: An Insufficient Technology of the Subject
SRAJANA KAIKINI

34 Popular Art and the Algorithm
SANJAY RANADE & SNEHA SUBHEDAR

46 Between Hell and High Water: Hamlet and the Technology of Tragedy in Golden Glitch Studios;
Elsinore
XAVIER MENEZES

65 Canvas of Change: Navigating Art, Justice, and Rights in the Digital Epoch
JIVITESH PATIL

SECTION II: THEORY IN PRACTICE

82 Architecture between Demolitions and the Contemporary between Histories
KAIWAN MEHTA

SECTION III: EXPERIENTIAL PERSPECTIVES

94 I Don't Paint. I Write in Colours

ASHUTOSH APTE

100 Between You & Me (Climate Change, COVID-19 and Film making)

NIKHIL KATARA

SECTION IV : PREVIEWS OF FORTHCOMING BOOKS

110 Author's Speak: Ramu Ramanathan's reflections on his play Cotton 56 Polyester 84 as a preview of the Forthcoming book : Cotton 56, Polyester 84 and Comrade Kumbhakarna: Two Plays by Ramu Ramanathan

127 An Excerpt from Aanand Chabukswar's Creative Rites of the Recovering Mind: Arts-based Therapy for Persons Living with Mental Illness.

SECTION V : BOOK REVIEW

- 136 Leonhard Emmerling, The Art of Diremption: On the Powerlessness of Art. Translated by Parnal Chirmuley 2021 London, New York & Calcutta: Seagull books. Pages 125.

PATHIK ROY

- 143 "Revisiting Gary Michael Tartakov's (ed). Dalit Art and Visual Imagery: A Decade Review"2012. Foreword by Sukhdeo Thorat, New Delhi: Oxford University Press. Pages 296

BIRAJ MEHTA RATHI

SECTION VI : BOOK COMMENTARY

- 151 Sharma Arushi; Debnath Aishe; Karne Manisha; Kumar Satishchandra: Kharat, Rajesh (Ed.) Peace through Poetry: An Ethnographic Journey into Peace. 2023 Foreword by Arundhati Subramaniam, New Delhi, Kathmandu: Adroit Publishers. Pages 154.

CHANDRIKA KUMAR